

Sinclair Broadcasting's going to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election> This is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair's offer to use the public airwaves free of charge is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But because it is a large company and controls the airwaves, we are getting more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what we should see. Instead of something along one political line we need to see real people from our own communities and more substantive news about issues that matter.

Sinclair's media actions indicate a need by the FCC to reprimand them. They will do more to weaken this country and not strengthen it when it needs it the most. Thank you.
